

OUTLINE

CICASP Seminar in Science Communication #119*

Practice presentations

5 PM-, Wednesday, January 15, 2020 (PRI Large Conference Room)

Students will practice their talks for the Master's Thesis Presentations or the 64th Primates Conference and get feedback from colleagues in this seminar.

*If you wish to practice, please email your presentation file to Raquel by 3 pm on Wednesday, January 15th. First come, first served (with priorities given to Master's Thesis Presentations)!

*This workshop will not be videocast to WRC, but WRC students are welcome to attend it at PRI.

 We are calling for volunteers to organize the next Inuyama Nerds in February/March. Please contact us if you have a topic you would like to "nerd out" about! Also, we would love to hear everyone's thoughts on the Inuyama Nerds events so far—please take this quick online survey and give us your feedback by 1/15:

https://docs.google.com/forms/d/e/1FAIpQLScNAsZ5-9_4wh2H1Qq5ifxJ9VNOs_DIXoxq0YIphUCFIgLPoA/viewform

Schedule of CICASP workshops [Fall 2019/2020]

January Block (1/29, 2/5)

– Scientific debates – practice debating controversial topics and scientific breakthroughs, engaging in today's science issues.

We would like to invite students to provide topics for controversial science issues they would like to discuss. If you are interested, please email back to Raquel (raquelberingei@gmail.com) along with a suitable topic for the debate.

On the Horizon:

- Professional bios & Interview practices– create an appealing summary of your academic profile and research interest for CV and professional online profile; prepare for future interviews (for jobs and grant applications), find the best way to introduce yourself, review and anticipate questions.
- Science blogging – fantastic way to share your research and ideas with a broader audience.