Zoo/Museum Course is conducted for the purpose of studying the role of researchers in zoo as a museum. At first, we studied the history of Japanese primatology and Japan Monkey Centre by Itani head zookeeper. The next day, we conducted cleaning of indoor exhibit space with floor brushes. Then, we observe anatomy of a Japanese macaque, and did works for the purpose of reserving zoological specimen. Three day, we received three lectures of education, museum and field works. After noon, enrichment practice was conducted to create containers of foods with bamboos. This aim is to give animals the difficulty of the feeding. Last day, we took a look of an education program for pupils. We received the role of answering some questions about primates from pupils.
