

In this course, we insect team studied what kind of insects Yakushima macaques eat. We find some new insect species and collect aunts that macaques possibly eat. This course provides me good opportunity to study methods of fieldwork and to communicate with foreign researchers.