During this visit, I participated in the group work on the distribution of Japanese macaques. I used this opportunity to experience field research with foreign students, and to improve my English. Through this experience, I got knowledge about how researchers collect and deal with their data. Also, it was the first time for me to work with foreigners on the same purpose. This experience will be greatly helpful for any of my future work. I and my colleagues are now working on summarizing the data we collected in Yakushima to make a scientific report. The picture I took during this visit was inserted as Fig.1 below “others”.
